Immigrant Definition

Immigrant refers to a person who is, or who has ever been, a landed immigrant or permanent resident. Such a person has been granted the right to live in Canada permanently by immigration authorities. Immigrants who have obtained Canadian citizenship by naturalization are included in this group.

In the 2021 Census of Population, 'Immigrant' includes immigrants who were admitted to Canada on or prior to May 11, 2021.

British Columbia population* 2021: 5,000,879

2021 Census: BC immigration

1. Economic Immigration (63%)

Economic immigration to Canada involves various programs designed to attract skilled workers, entrepreneurs, and investors to contribute to the Canadian economy. These programs are primarily focused on helping individuals meet labor market needs, establish businesses, or invest in Canadian industries, ultimately benefiting the country's economic growth and development.

2. Family Class Programs (27%)

Family immigration in Canada, specifically through the Family Sponsorship program, allows Canadian citizens and permanent residents to sponsor close relatives for permanent residency. This program aims to reunite families and ensure that sponsored relatives can live, work, and study in Canada.

3. Refugees and Protected Persons (9%)

Refugee immigration in Canada involves two primary pathways: resettlement and refugee claims. Refugee resettlement refers to individuals who are outside Canada and are selected for resettlement by the Canadian government through various programs. Refugee claims, on the other hand, are made by individuals inside Canada or at the border who seek protection from persecution.

2. Family Class Programs

Sponsored Spouse or Partner

You don't have to stay in an abusive relationship to keep your status in Canada

The person who's abusing you might tell you that you'll be deported or lose your children if you leave. If you're a permanent resident, you have rights and freedoms in Canada.

Sponsored Children

Sponsored Adopted Child

There used to be a condition on some sponsored spouses or partners of Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Under that condition, you had to live with your sponsor to keep permanent resident status. That condition no longer exists, and your status no longer depends on you living with your sponsor.

Sponsored Parent or Grandparent

Sponsored Extended Family Member

When you sponsor a relative to become a permanent resident of Canada, you must commit to financially supporting them and their accompanying family members

- beginning on the date they become a permanent resident
- for up to 20 years (depending on their age and how you're related)

making sure they won't need to ask the government for social assistance

- If they receive social assistance during the time you're responsible for them, you'll have to re-pay the amount. You won't be able to sponsor anyone else until you've re-paid it.
