coquitlam.ca/calendarWhat's New?*New Community Centre Coming to Town Centre Park

Coquitlam Council has approved the final design and budget to change the Innovation Centre into a new community centre in Town Centre Park.

The renovation project, which is substantially more cost-effective than building an entirely new facility elsewhere in City Centre, will start in April 2023 and will take roughly a year to complete.

The building will re-open as the Town Centre Park Community Centre – an inclusive space for discovery, participation and celebration with panoramic views of the park's floral landscapes and Lafarge Lake.

The new community centre will offer a variety of programming to help relieve pressure on other nearby facilities. It will feature a community living room space, a concession (with services provided by Praguery Food Limited), multi-purpose rooms and flex space for programming, a studio/maker's space, a covered deck and improved outdoor spaces. The exterior will also feature a large-scale mural and a call for artists will be issued in early 2023. To learn more about the new community centre and other upcoming projects, visit coquitlam.ca/facilityprojects.

Looking Out for the Environment*New Top-Ups to Heat Pump Rebates

Now is the time to convert to an energy-efficient heat pump. The City is offering a new rebate top-up for Coquitlam households who swap their natural gas, propane or oil heating systems to an electric heat pump – in addition to rebates already being offered by provincial and federal government programs.

Heat pumps are the most energy-efficient way to heat or cool a home in B.C. and can replace heat sources, such as a furnace or baseboards, in addition to an air conditioner. They are more climate-friendly than heaters, which use fossil fuels and pump greenhouse gases into the environment. Rebates provide qualifying homeowners up to $1,200, depending on their conversion. You can find all the details by visiting coquitlam.ca/energyupgrades.

Did You Know?*Celebrate Family Day in Coquitlam

Whether you choose skating, swimming, sports, movie time, brunch, a bouncy castle or a pirate party, create special memories with your family over the long weekend as we celebrate Family Day in Coquitlam. From Friday, Feb. 17 through to the holiday Monday, Feb. 20, the City is offering a variety of activities for the whole family. Find all the details about Coquitlam's Family Day activities at coquitlam.ca/familyday.

Keep an eye out for next week's City Page for more Family Day information.
