Committee Corner

As this issue hits the stands, snow is falling and it looks more like winter than it does spring outside! However, we are pleased to offer more outdoor trips as the weather warms up and improves.

We have managed to provide a variety of different trips for March and April—a mix of theatre, Dine Outs and popular seasonal venues. We have been mindful of the feedback we have been receiving and are grateful for the appreciation expressed by our bus trip participants. This April, we salute the volunteers who make up this bus trip committee and thank them for their dedication and their commitment to coming up with a listing of fun, social and interesting trips every two months—this is quite a feat and we appreciate their efforts with a huge round of applause.

From Dora Jellema...

The bus trip to “Theatre in the Country” is a novel outing to a church hall that is rented by a Langley community drama club. The setting is transformed into a dinner theatre, where your evening starts with a delicious catered buffet dinner before the performance starts.

Dessert is served later at the tables during the intermission. The play, Deathtrap, is a comedy-thriller with clever twists in the plot. It is performed by a talented cast, some being amateurs and some budding professionals. Altogether, it is recommended as an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Bus Trip Advice

- Arrive 15 minutes prior to departure. The bus will not wait for any late-comers.
- Return times are approximate.
- Dress appropriately for the weather and trip.
- When you register, inform the front desk if you need to bring a wheelchair or a walker. We require a minimum two week notification to arrange wheelchair transportation.
- The walker/wheelchair must be very compact and portable. If an attendant is required, this person must register as a participant and pay full fare as bus trip volunteers cannot assist with lifting or pushing wheelchairs.
- Trips are non-transferable. If you are unable to make the trip, please notify the front desk to confirm alternative arrangements.
- Please take note of Glen Pine Extended Parking requirements.
- For trips to the USA:
  - » Bring your valid travel documentation (passport, enhanced drivers licence).
  - » It is your responsibility to buy extra medical insurance.
  - » Be aware that laws prohibit some merchandise from being brought back across the border.

NOTE: Bus trip pick up spots are at Dogwood and Glen Pine (Spirit Square on Burlington Drive across from City Hall, meet in the Hub when Glen Pine is open). These are the only designated stops or pick ups. Prices include school bus transportation unless otherwise stated.

REFUND POLICY: Full refund shall be issued if the request is made five days in advance of the bus trip. No refund under five days. If a bus trip is full, place your name on the wait list. There is a strong possibility that another bus can be booked or another day planned. For theatre performances, we try our best to have you sit with whom you wish but there is no guarantee. We do our best to make the trip accessible and accommodate participation.
