VSO Pops - The U.K. Rocks!

The British Invasion of the 1960s brought something special to North America, and transformed rock `n roll and popular music forever with legendary bands like The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, The Who, and Queen, and artists like Elton John. Their legacy lives on through more recent imports such as Sting, Adele, and Coldplay, to name a few. This amazing tribute to these UK greats features the incomparable Storm Large of Pink Martini fame, the smooth tenor of Shem von Schroeck, and one of the world's top pops conductor/arrangers, Michael Krajewski.

Vagabond Theatre - You Can't Take It with You

Freedom, love, and fireworks collide in this hilarious and heartwarming comedy! Tony Kirby, Alice Sycamore's fiancé, accidentally brings his conservative, straight-laced parents to dine at the Sycamore home on the wrong evening. The shock sustained by the Kirbys, who are invited to eat cheap food, shows Alice that marriage with Tony is out of the question. Tony, having to fight to keep the families together, has to deal with the strange activities of the Sycamore household, such as the fireworks factory in the basement, the printing press set up in the parlour, and Grandpa's interview with the tax collector when he tells him he doesn't believe in the income tax. This classic comedy from the 1930s is the only play with a film adaptation to win both the Pulitzer Prize for Best Play and the Academy Award for Best Picture!

At the Bernie Legge Theatre in New Westminster.

Committee Corner

One of the summer bus trips will be to a performance by Chor Leoni. Meaning, "Choir of Lions," this all male choir was established in 1992 by award-winning choir director Diane Loomer, who also founded the Elektra Women's Choir and the mixed senior's choir Encore. Chor Leoni became known around the world before her death, and now under its American director, Erick Lichte, it continues to flourish, winning many competitions in serious choral music. It has a faithful following who also enjoy the Summer Solstice program of midsummer madness, when the choir lets its hair down in pure entertainment. It is always held on the main stage tent at Bard on the Beach where the choir enjoys a good relationship with director Christopher Gaze who usually features one song on the program. Now in its 25th year, Chor Leoni's "Mane Event" is sure to please anyone who attends this delightful show submitted by Dora Jellema.

"I have had my first senior bus trip and will most definitely be going on many more. I was reluctant to do this but now I can see the benefits. No driving or trying to find parking, excellent socializing and I can do this on my own. Highly recommended."

Bus Trip Advice

- Arrive 15 minutes prior to departure.
- The bus will not wait for any late-comers.
- Return times are approximate.
- Dress appropriately for the weather and trip.
- When you register, inform the front desk if you need to bring a wheelchair or a walker. We require a minimum two week notification to arrange wheelchair transportation.
- The walker/wheelchair must be very compact and portable. If an attendant is required, this person must register as a participant and pay full fare as bus trip volunteers cannot assist with lifting or pushing wheelchairs.
- Trips are non-transferable. If you are unable to make the trip, please notify the front desk to confirm alternative arrangements.
- Please take note of Glen Pine Extended Parking requirements. .
- For trips to the USA:
 - » Bring your valid travel documentation (passport, enhanced drivers licence).
 - » It is your responsibility to buy extra medical insurance.
 - » Be aware that laws prohibit some merchandise from being brought back across the border.

NOTE: Bus trip pick up spots are at Dogwood and Glen Pine (Spirit Square on Burlington Drive across from City Hall, meet in the Hub when Glen Pine is open). These are the only designated stops or pick ups. Prices include school bus transportation unless otherwise stated.

REFUND POLICY: Full refund shall be issued if the request is made five days in advance of the bus trip. No refund under five days.

If a bus trip is full, place your name on the wait list. There is a strong possibility that another bus can be booked or another day planned.

For theatre performances, we try our best to have you sit with whom you wish but there is no guarantee.

We do our best to make the trip accessible and accommodate participation.

Visit coquitlam.ca/enews to subscribe to the Bus Trips email list, with updates on new trips and related information.
